Awards

- Philips Research, 2017, Outstanding Achievement Award [for leadership and bioethics skills chairing the internal research ethics committee]
- Australian Award for University Teaching 2015, Citation for Outstanding Contributions to Student Learning [national award]
- Bond University School of Medicine Certificate of Teaching Excellence, 2015, Semester 152, (fall-winter).
- Bond University School of Medicine Certificate of Teaching Excellence, 2015, Semester 151, (summer).
- Vice Chancellor's Award for Teaching Excellence, Bond University, 2014.
- Award for Teaching Excellence, Bond University Faculty of Health Sciences & Medicine, 2014.
- Bond University School of Medicine Certificate of Teaching Excellence, 2014, Semester 142, (fall-winter).
- Bond University School of Medicine Certificate of Teaching Excellence, 2013, Semester 133 (spring).
- Bond University School of Medicine Certificate of Teaching Excellence, 2013, Semester 132 (fall-winter).
- NATCO Research Award 2007 (Exploring the Ethical Complexities of Organ Tourism).
- Cleveland Clinic Bernard A. Loeschner Pastoral Care Award, 2005 (teaching award).
- Cleveland Consultation Liaison Society Mahmoud Parsa Award, 2003 (award for best presentation, "Shopping for a Transplant: The Dilemma of Multiple Listing and Non-compliant Patients.")

Education/Teaching Activities

1. Course Director: Basics in Bioethics; Ethical Issues in Animal Research; Ethical Issues in Imaging Research; Ethical Issues in Oral Health Research; Ethical Issues in Wearables Research; Ethical Issues in Maternal-Fetal and Neonatal Research; Ethical Issues in Data Research; Research Misconduct; Protocol Deviations: What, When, Why (Philips Research). 2016-2018. All courses offered in online modules. Basics in Bioethics also offered live with multiple online versions depending on context, e.g., China, India, Africa, Brazil.

2. Convenor/Faculty: Bioethics Grand Rounds (Pindara Private Hospital, Benowa, QLD; Gold Coast University Hospital, Southport, QLD [via Medicine Grand Rounds]). Formerly offered onsite at Bond University Medical School 2012-2013. In 2014 & 2015 these sessions were offered at two local Bond affiliate hospitals, providing medical ethics education to hospital staff and students.
3. Faculty and Lead, MBBS Ethics and Professionalism Theme (Bond University School of Medicine). 2012 – 2013. Faculty and Lead, MBBS/MD Health Advocate & Professional Theme (2014-2016). Curriculum design, teaching and assessment with regard to professionalism, general medical ethics, clinical ethics, research ethics, genethics, end of life care, social media, fitness to practice, transplant ethics, authorship ethics, disability ethics, spirituality and medicine, reflective thinking and writing, and medical humanities. PBL case author (renal, cardiac, and hepatology) and session facilitator. Manage curriculum maps.
4. Co-Faculty, “Professional Issues” (Griffith University, Masters/Graduate Diploma Clinical Physiology). 2013 – 2016. Teaching and assessment of the following topics: general medical ethics, documentation/charting, privacy & confidentiality, informed consent.
5. Faculty, “Ethical Issues in Research Involving Organ Donation & Transplantation” (Monash University). 2012. This is an on-line module for HREC member training (section 4, <http://www.cems.monash.org/online-ethics-training-course.html>)
6. Co-Faculty, “Transplant Ethics”, required lecture and lab seminar for 2nd year medical students (Touro College of Osteopathic Medicine). 2011-2012. New seminar that I created using a simulated patient for the lab session.
7. Faculty & Course Director, “Bioethics”, 3rd & 4th year medical student elective (California Pacific Medical Center). 2008-2009. New elective created with clinical and research ethics components.
8. Faculty, “New Resident Orientation” (California Pacific Medical Center). 2007- 2009. Medical ethics education session for incoming residents every July. 5. Faculty, “Residents Noon Conference” (California Pacific Medical Center). 2007 – 2010. Ten medical ethics education sessions for PGY1-3 CPMC residents each year.
9. Faculty & Course Director, “Bioethics for Chaplains”, CPE course, (California Pacific Medical Center). 2010. A 4-week course in introductory clinical ethics, as well as special topics such as transplant ethics, EOL, pediatrics and maternal-fetal ethical dilemmas. This is a case-based course with readings.
10. Co-faculty, “Introduction to Clinical Research” (Cleveland Clinic/MPH 620 Cleveland State University). 2002-2006. This course includes the following: how to look for research funding, grantwriting, writing protocols and consent/assent forms, biostatistical concerns, institutional review boards, ethical issues with genetic research and placebos. I teach the session on consent, genetics and placebos.
11. Co-faculty, “Introduction to Clinical Research and Proposal Development” (Cleveland Clinic, CMED 401), 2007. I teach a one hour session on research ethics (informed consent, issues with genetics studies and stored samples). Audience: first year medical students, as well as physicians.
12. Co-faculty, “Introduction to Clinical Medicine” (Cleveland Clinic Lerner College of Medicine). 2003- 2006. As the Ethics Thread Leader I co-developed this course which includes professionalism and clinical ethics woven through all organ systems for MS1 and MS2 students.

13. Faculty & Course Director, “Ethics in Laboratory Research” (Cleveland Clinic Lerner College of Medicine). 2004 – 2006. This is a 2hr workshop on ethics and laboratory science (good research practice, collegiality, authorship, data integrity, research misconduct, whistleblowing). I created and teach this 50-minute lecture and 60-minute discussion of 3 ethics cases for Year One medical students.
14. Faculty & Course Director, “Responsible Conduct in Research” (Cleveland Clinic). 2005-2007. This is a 2hr workshop on ethics and laboratory science (good research practice, collegiality, authorship, mentoring, data integrity, research misconduct, whistleblowing, and research with animals). I created and teach this 50-minute lecture and 60-minute discussion of 3 ethics cases. I also created an on-line version of this course.
15. Faculty & Course Director, “Responsible Conduct in Research for Animal Technicians” (Cleveland Clinic Lerner Research Institute). 2006. A variation of the above course, this is a 2hr workshop on ethics specifically geared toward animal technicians who work in the vivarium. I created and teach this 50-minute lecture and 60-minute discussion of 3 ethics cases.
16. Faculty & Course Director, “Bioethics” (ETHC0301), 3rd & 4th year medical student elective (Cleveland Clinic Lerner College of Medicine). 2003-2007. I re-designed this elective in 2004 to include a research ethics rotation.
17. Faculty, resident, post-doc, & allied health bioethics education, Cleveland Clinic. 2002-2007
18. Biomedical Engineering bioethics education, Cleveland Clinic. 2002-2006
19. Faculty & Course Director, “Bioethics for Social Workers”, CEU course, Cleveland Clinic. 2003-2005. I created this seminar to satisfy State licensing requirements for Social Workers.
